I really enjoyed the seminar you participated in today on Working Parents. It was really generous of each of you to share your personal experiences to help and encourage others.

I'd appreciate your passing along my thanks to Courtney for her support. I'm sure you'll encourage her to be the best she can be. I hope when her turn comes to "walk across the stage" in whatever form that might take, that she'll have more female company than I did.

Thanks for your kind words and congratulations to you on your promotion.
